The Company has the right to allow a change to the Client Account leverage at the Company's discretion.

10.25 The Company may offer standard lots, micro-lots, and mini-lots, in its discretion, defined as follows: (1.0) standard lot = 100000 of the base currency, (0.1) mini lot= 10000 of the base currency, and (0.01) Micro lot= 1000 of the base currency.

10.26 Adoption of high leverage may expand trading opportunities and offer the potential for greater gains, but it also exposes the trader to increased risks. These risks can be mitigated by adhering to a cautious and disciplined trading strategy when initiating and closing transactions. You hereby acknowledge and confirm that you have read and understood fully the Risk Disclosure & Warning Notice, available on the Website.

10.27 The applicable Swap Rates, if any, may fluctuate in size and are subject to change based on prevailing market conditions and interest rates. The Company reserves the right to modify the Swap Rates without prior written notice to the Client. The Client is required to sign the Swap-Free Conditions Agreement prior to the commencement of trading activities.

10.28 The Spread for each Instrument is specified by the Company in the Contract Specifications. The Company reserves the right to change the Spreads at its discretion, without prior written notice to the Client, in response to, but not limited to, changes in market conditions, liquidity, volatility, or other relevant factors that may affect the pricing of the Instrument. The Client acknowledges and accepts that the Spread may vary accordingly.

10.29 The Company offers clients competitive spreads on all instruments but reserves the right to make occasional, small increases to the spreads on some or all instruments. This action is taken to ensure that the Company provides the best available market conditions and the tightest spreads. One of the Company's primary objectives is to execute client orders at the best available market prices, ensuring that clients receive the tightest spreads possible. You acknowledge and confirm that you are fully aware of this provision throughout the entire term of the Agreement.

10.30 The Company allows hedging, which means clients are allowed to open positions in the opposite direction of previously opened positions in the trading account, to reduce loss and to decide later when to enter the market.

10.31 Hedging an instrument through its corresponding Futures OTC contract is strictly prohibited for swap-free accounts, as such actions are deemed to constitute an attempt to exploit the swap-free facility for the purpose of deriving profits from swap-related transactions. In the event that the Client fails to take appropriate action to avoid engaging in prohibited practices, the Company shall have the right, at its sole discretion and without prior notice to the Client, to close the relevant positions or take any other necessary actions, including but not limited to retroactively deducting swap charges or employing other corrective measures on the Client's account.

10.32 Hedged positions will be held in the trading account without affecting the required margin value since the required margin is calculated for each instrument according to the net positions opened at a specific moment.

10.33 The Client acknowledges that Quotes displayed on the market watch on the Trading Terminal of the Client are Indicative Quotes used for Informational purposes only.

10.34 The Company provides Quotes based on the underlying asset price; however, this does not imply that the Quotes will fall within any specific percentage range of the underlying asset price. When the relevant Underlying Market is closed, the Quotes provided by the Company will reflect the Company's assessment of the current Bid and Ask price of the relevant underlying asset at that time. The Client acknowledges and agrees that such Quotes are determined at the Company's absolute discretion and may differ from the prices available in the Underlying Market. The Company shall not be held liable for any discrepancies between its Quotes and the prices in the Underlying Market, nor for any consequences arising from the use of such Quotes.

10.35 Execution of Contracts for Difference (CFDs) in currencies (foreign exchange), spot metals, futures, equities, indices, commodities, and options will be conducted as market execution, subject to prevailing market conditions, meaning whenever the Client agrees to buy or sell a CFD in any of those Underlying Assets, the Company will give him the available price in the market even if the requested price by the Client was changed without giving him a re-quote on that entry.

10.36 Scalping and Pip-Hunting are permitted on any account type, subject to the Client adhering to internal rules, including holding trades for a minimum of 3 minutes or achieving a gain/loss of USD 1 per Gold price movement or USD 10 per PIP for currency/indices trades. The Company reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to reject any transaction, including previously accepted orders, without prior notice. Any prior acceptance of Scalping or Pip-Hunting transactions does not waive the Company's right to reject future instances of such conduct. The Company may also impose fees for such conduct at any time, without prior notice.

10.37 In the event that the Company classifies a client as a scalper or a pip hunter, which the company does not currently allow except for any Accounts, the Company may, at its sole discretion, and without a prior written notice, take one or more of the following actions:

- a) Change the account type to the corresponding type of account.
- b) Terminate this Agreement without prior notice or court order.
- c) Close out all or any of the Client's open positions at current market prices.
- d) Debit the Client Account(s) for the amounts which are due to the Company.
- e) Close any or all of the Client Accounts held with the Company.
- d) Combine Client Accounts; consolidate the Balances in such Client Accounts and offset those balances.
- e) Refuse to open new Client Accounts for the Client.
- f) Pay penalty fees (Retrospective Charge maybe applicable if Counterparty specially LP charges the Company).

10.38 Slippage in Contracts for Difference (CFDs) on Currencies occurs when a limit order or stop-loss order is triggered at a rate less favourable than the price initially specified in the order. In such instances, the Company will execute the trade at the next available best price, as determined by the prevailing market conditions at the time the order is triggered.

10.39 Slippage involves executing any given trade on a specific price different from the expected price sent or preset by the client. This may take place during highly volatile market conditions such (but not limited to) economic or political news; the order will be filled at the next best available market price because, but not limited to the desired/preset order price is not available, or because higher spread differences are applied in the corresponding exchanges of the traded instrument.

10.40 The Company does not apply slippage under normal market conditions and applies it on stop pending entry or liquidation orders during times when the Company is closed or when - but not limited to - there is a weekend or bank holiday, international economic events, or hectic market movements. In this case stop orders will be filled on the opening price, which the Company finds suitable.

10.41 Clients acknowledge that slippage might occur as per the liquidity providers' terms and conditions and that this is beyond the control of the Company and agrees to waive the Company from any liability that may arise subjective to any damage or expense or loss incurred by the Client, in relation to or directly or indirectly arising from but not limited to such terms and conditions.

He/she may be required to make further variable payments by way of margin against the purchase price of the Instrument, instead of paying (or receiving) the whole purchase (or sale) price immediately. The movement in the market price of the Client's investment will affect the amount of margin payment he /she will be required to make. The Client agrees to pay the Company on demand such sums by way of margin as are required from time to time under the Rules of any relevant Market (if applicable) or as the Company may in its discretion reasonably require for the purpose of protecting itself against loss or risk of loss on present, future or contemplated Transactions under this Agreement.

38. CLIENT ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND ACCEPTANCE OF RISKS AND CONSENT

38.1 The Client hereby expressly and unconditionally acknowledges, understands, and accepts the following risks associated with trading financial instruments, including but not limited to Contracts for Difference (CFDs), futures, and foreign exchange transactions:

- a) High-Risk Nature of CFDs: Trading in CFDs is inherently speculative and may not be suitable for all individuals. The Client assumes full responsibility for any financial losses incurred, including the potential loss of their entire investment, as well as any additional commissions, fees, and other expenses. The Company shall not be held liable for any differences between the chart prices and the prices available for execution on the Client's account. Clients are advised to refer to the market watch and their account-specific pricing for accurate trading information.
- b) Leverage and Market Volatility: CFDs are highly leveraged instruments, meaning that a relatively small market movement may result in proportionally larger fluctuations in the value of the Client's investment. While leverage can amplify profits, it can also lead to significant losses, potentially exceeding the initial investment. The Client acknowledges and accepts all implications of leveraged trading, including but not limited to contingent liabilities and margin requirements. The Client acknowledges and agrees that any Orders transmitted and processed in this manner will be subject to the same terms, conditions, and execution policies as Orders placed directly through the Online Trading System. The Company shall not be held liable for any delays, errors, or technical issues that may arise during the transmission or processing of such Orders.
- c) Futures Trading Risks: Futures transactions carry a significant degree of risk due to their leveraged nature. The initial margin required is typically small relative to the total contract value, which can result in substantial gains or losses. In the event of adverse market movements or increased margin requirements, the Client may be obligated to provide additional funds at short notice to maintain open positions. Failure to meet margin calls may result in the forced liquidation of positions at a loss. The Client acknowledges and agrees that market execution may result in the Order being filled at a price different from the requested price, and the Company shall not be held liable for any discrepancies or consequences arising from such execution.
- d) Foreign Exchange Risk: Foreign exchange markets are highly volatile, and transactions in such markets involve a substantial risk of loss. The Client acknowledges that exposure to foreign exchange risk increases when transactions are conducted in a currency other than their base currency, as fluctuations in exchange rates may materially impact the value of their investments. The Client acknowledges that the prices displayed on the Company's platform reflect general market trends but may not correspond to the exact prices at which trades can be executed. Actual execution prices may differ depending on prevailing market conditions and liquidity at the time the trade is placed.
- e) Risks Associated with Online and Mobile Trading Services: The Client acknowledges and accepts the inherent risks associated with trading through an electronic Online Trading System and/or Mobile Trading Service, including but not limited to:
- i) Service Availability and Access Limitations: The Client understands that access to the Online Trading System and/or Mobile Trading Service, or any portion thereof, may be restricted or unavailable due to peak demand periods, extreme market volatility, system upgrades, maintenance, technical failures, or any other reason beyond the Company's control. The Company shall not be held liable for any losses, damages, or consequences arising from the execution of Orders as provided by the Client, including but not limited to errors, inaccuracies, or omissions in the Order's terms.
- ii) No Guarantee of Uninterrupted Service: The Company and its service providers do not warrant that access to or use of the Online Trading System and/or Mobile Trading Service will be uninterrupted, error-free, or meet any specific performance or quality criteria.
